A CITY PARK SCENE

Mayville and vicinity form an almost ideal normal school locality, clean and wholesome with its prevailing rural character, as compared with the larger city localities, and with the fewest things possible to divert the attention of students, encourage unfortunate habits, and cause unnecessary expense. The unusually fine country about the town, made all the more beautiful by the hills and woods along the Goose River mean delightful walks and drives outside of school hours.

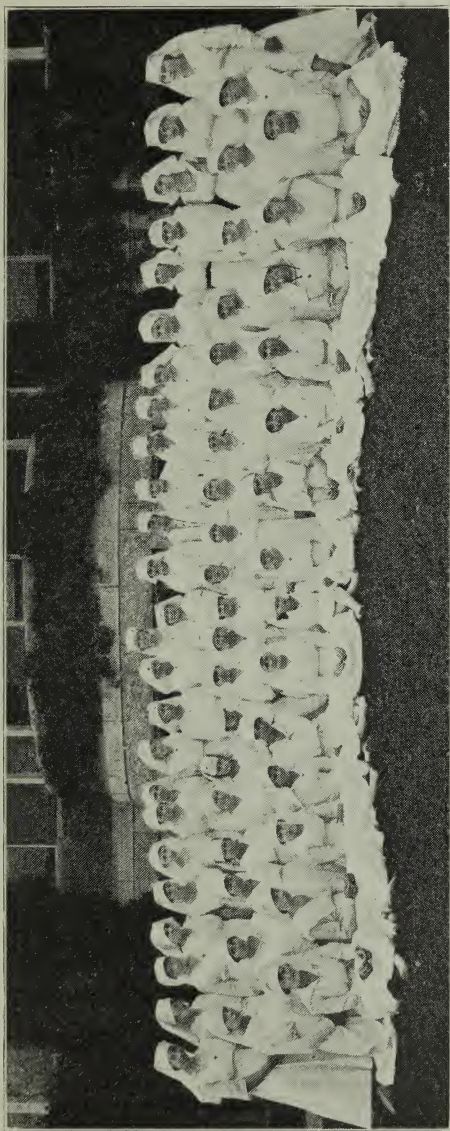

WEST DORMITORY

MAIN BUILDING

EAST DORMITORY

Both of the separate dormitory buildings are for young women. The young men's dormitory is the east half of the third floor of the main building. The boarding department is in the basement of the west dormitory. The hospital, central heating plant, green-house, and experimental garden are in the rear.

A SURGICAL DRESSINGS CLASS

The normal school is careful to keep its students and teachers well posted upon the causes and progress of the war and to give them every possible opportunity to do their part in winning it. The enthusiastic, patriotic response which all give to every request for help is, at present, the finest thing about the school.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The coming school year will open on Tuesday, October 1.

Courses of study, leading to teachers' certificates, are offered for both eighth-grade and high school graduates.

The new rural course for eighth-grade graduates and the "advanced" year's work required of the normal school's elementary graduates for the standard diploma are given special attention.

High school under-graduates can sometimes transfer to the normal school and save time and money.

Graduates of the normal school are in great demand and go out at $65.00 to $85.00 per month as teachers and at $85.00 to $125.00 per month as principals.

The normal school now offers opportunity for the incidental study of piano, voice, and violin.

A fine entertainment course is offered free.

There are many opportunities for social contact and culture.

Boarding and rooming accommodations are excellent for both young women and young men.

An attractive catalogue giving a detailed description of the normal school and its work may be obtained by writing to
